“The book of your fever dreams.”
Slate.com called I, Tania, “The book of your fever dreams.”

L.A. Weekly recently declared, “Davis has an amazing head for aural experiments—creating expansive compositions out of found sounds and computer manipulations—that are smart on paper and fascinating in execution.”

Ronald Reagan, My Father.

Biography:

Brian Joseph Davis is an artist and writer based in Toronto. He's the author of Portable Altamont (Coach House), the novel I, Tania (ECW), and the upcoming short fiction collection, Ronald Reagan, My Father.

Just go with it.

Considering where and how you're listening to them, it's a very anachronistic relationship to sound and narrative.

March 31 2010 - December 31 2010

In-Site Toronto is a series of newly commissioned artwork that will be presented on the portal pages of wireless internet hotspots in the Wireless Toronto network. Artists Jeremy Bailey, Brian Joseph Davis, Dave Dymment, Willy Le Maitre, Fedora Romita, and Swintak have created works that enhance how we perceive familiar places in Toronto, and comment on our contemporary online experiences. The works can be accessed by simply logging in to your free Wireless Toronto account.
